

Bikes, Bees, & Butterflies and Case Western Reserve University's Squire Valleevue Farm presents

2016 Cleveland Pollinator Symposium

October 22
8:00 am – 5:00 pm
Squire Valleevue Farm
37125 Fairmount Boulevard
Hunting Valley, OH 44022

Topics and Presenters:

- Designing Plant Communities: The Art and Science of Successful Plant Communities
Claudia West, Co-author of Planting in a Post Wild World, Horticulturist at North Creek Nurseries
- Meadowscaping in Urban and Suburban Spaces
Catherine Zimmerman—award winning photographer and environmental filmmaker, author of Urban and Suburban Meadows
- A Case Study: Chicago's Lurie Garden
Jennifer Davit, Project Manager at Ohio Prairie Nursery and former Director of Chicago's Lurie Garden
- Regenerative Design: Embedding Function in Well-Designed Spaces
Lauren Wheeler—Director of Sustainable Landscapes at George Washington University
- Urban Beekeeping in Pittsburgh: Burgh Bees
Steve Repasky, President of Burgh Bees; director for the American Beekeeping Federation
- Raising Awareness of the Impact of Pesticides on Pollinators
Michele Colopy—Pollinator Stewardship Council, Program Director

For Information: contact Ann Cicarella @
ann.cicarella@gmail.com | (216) 377-2689 | BikesBeesButterflies.org